WALTON GOES ON TRIAL BEFORE THE OKLAHOMA SENATE

LATTER SITS AS A COURT OF IMPEACHMENT TO HEAR THE CHARGES MADE

INVOLVE "GROSS ABUSE OF OFFICIAL POWERS INVOLVING MORAL TURPITUDE"

(By United Press)
Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 1: J. C. Walton, suspended governor of Oklahoma, goes on trial for his official position before a jury of state senators today.

The governor was called to appear before the senate, sitting as a court of impeachment to answer charges of "gross abuse of official powers involving moral turpitude."

As the curtain lifted on what may be the last act of the most stirring ten months of drama in the history of any state, the governor contended that the Ku Klux Klan was responsible for his difficulties and declared the majority were controlled by that organization.

Taking his seat in the governor's chair the first of the year, surrounded by 100,000 acclaiming supporters, Walton today faced the court of last resort with only a handful of loyal friends at his side.

Zach Mulhall and Buck Garrett, whose names are linked with close to half a century of law enforcement history in Oklahoma, were ready to accompany the governor and his hired attorneys to the senate chamber. True to the tradition and spirit of the frontier, having given their word of loyalty to the executive, they were ready to stand by him to the last.

Where last January Walton was proclaimed the "people's governor" by a great host gathered here from every corner of the state to help celebrate his taking office, he went on trial with as many enemies labeling him as "the man who would be king" and as a "despot and a seeker after power."

The prosecution, a board of members embodying the legal talent of the lower house, will demand prompt trial, according to W. B. Disney, chairman of the impeachment committee.

Removal from the calendar list of charges of an act upon which the supporters of the suspended governor might base a fight for delay and the insertion of additional charges, was provided for in a motion adopted late yesterday.

Postpone Charge Hearing
Hearing of charges against Governor J. C. Walton was postponed until 1:30 p. m. today when the state senate assembled as a court of impeachment.

The recess was taken on request of attorneys for Walton. They asked for a postponement of ten days, but the senate voted that the governor should make his plea this afternoon.

Huge Counterfeiting Ring is Being Rounded Up

MINNESOTA 'U' CO-EDS ARRESTED FOR RIDING BLINDS, TALK WAY OUT

Minneapolis, Nov. 1.—Two University of Minnesota co-eds caught "riding the blinds" at La Crosse, Wis., while on their way home from the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game last Saturday, "didn't miss a class" they told friends at the university today because the police chief was sympathetic when they told him "we haven't time to stay in jail," because of classes.

The girls, Hazel Casserly and Elsie Mott, both of Minneapolis, are seniors in the physical education department of the university.

6,000 EDUCATORS AT CONVENTION

ATTENDANCE MAY GO TO 10,000 AT MINNESOTA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Nov. 1.—Nearly 6,000 educators were here today for the annual convention of the Minnesota Education Association.

Various registrations indicated the attendance will reach more than 10,000, considerably larger than heretofore, 260 schools in the state and a hundred per cent enrollment in the association, officers said.

"We deal in futures," said E. H. Lindley, chancellor University of Kansas, addressing the opening session, said today.

"There never was a one hundred per cent American and the best we can do is to work toward that end. The elements of the American spirit are dynamic, not static. There are two underlying principles of American citizenship. The first of these principles is voluntary obedience to law; surrender of the individual to collective law.

"The man who refuses to obey laws has no reason to complain of the activities of gunmen and other criminals," he said, striking at those who smile at violations of prohibition and other laws.

"The voice of the people in this country has taken the place of the voice of God," he said.

The second principle, he added, is that "we must treat persons as persons, never as things; not as they were but as you believe them capable of becoming."

"We face a problem worse today than day before yesterday which will be worse before it is better for the reason that we refuse to treat persons as persons. The living hand of the imperialistic is deadly and we find the fact stands in the family, either there is too much father, too much mother or a children's soviet." He praised the American home, however, declaring the best of them were the best family institutions in history.

'GENERAL MAN' SUES FOR $16,460 WAGES

DOMESTIC SAYS HE WAS PAID $700 IN 8 YEARS AFTER $40 A WEEK AGREEMENT

Minneapolis, Nov. 1.—Bert Ferris, formerly employed at the home of Mrs. Edith Linton Hanson, 2516 Chicago avenue, has begun suit against Mrs. Hanson before District Judge W. C. Leary, demanding $16,460 which he claims is due him for wages.

"I did general work around the house," Ferris stated in his complaint, "and I was to be paid $40 a week. All I ever was paid was $700."

Ferris said he went to work April 1, 1913, and remained at the Hanson residence until July 1, 1921. He wants $16,460 and interest from 1921.

"I worked from 7:45 a. m. until 9:30 p. m.," Ferris said. "It was certainly worth $40 a week."

East Hotel Total Loss in Fire This Morning

Fire Discovered by Mrs. Louis Olson, Living Several Doors North of the Hotel; Interior Burning Furiously When Fire Department Arrived

Hotel Was Unoccupied at the Time of Fire, D. E. Barry Moving Out Two Weeks Ago; Grocery Store of Swanson & Thon Practically Destroyed

The Kindred hotel, better known as the old East hotel, and one of the early landmarks of Northeast Brainerd, burned early this morning.

The interior of the building, including the grocery store owned by Swanson and Thon, was practically destroyed, about all that remains of the structure is the walls, and they are badly charred.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Louis Olson, who lives several doors north of the hotel. She awoke, and smelled smoke, so roused her husband, who went outside to locate the blaze. The wind coming from the south carried the smoke directly by his place in thick clouds, and guessing where it was coming from, he turned in the alarm.

The building must have been burning for some time, as the fire had quite a start before the department arrived. The interior was burning furiously, so that nothing could be saved from any of the rooms.

Hotel Part Unoccupied
The hotel was unoccupied at the time of the fire, D. E. Barry, who had leased it furnished for several years, had moved out about two weeks ago, and a new tenant had not as yet been secured. The furniture and equipment stood just as the former proprietor had left them.

The building was owned by Mrs. Emma Forsythe, but it is said that S. S. Peters was buying it on the contract plan. Insurance was carried in agencies represented by the Insurance Service Agency and A. M. Opsahl. Swanson and Thon carried insurance with George Tracy. $16,460 was carried on the building, and $5,000 on the fixtures.

Formerly Known as Kindred Hotel
The Kindred hotel is among the oldest buildings in Northeast Brainerd. It was erected in the early eighties, either in 1882 or 1883, by William F. Brockway, father of W. E. Brockway, who operated the hotel and the grocery store adjoining until his death, in April, 1896. It has changed hands a number of times, and has been increased in size until at the time of the fire, it was a three-story structure, about 50 by 100 ft. with a one-story addition at the rear. The building was heated by steam, and had other modern improvements.

Grocery Firm Gets New Location
Swanson and Thon have rented the store room formerly occupied by Mrs. Bessie Closterman, in the same block with the hotel, and will enlarge the quarters to suit their needs and begin business again at once.

The partitions are being removed, the store room enlarged and new shelves are being installed.

A complete new stock of groceries has been ordered and they will be ready for business Saturday morning.

No plans have yet been made as to what will be done with the old hotel site.

MANY MYSTERIES IN PROBE OF THE VETERANS BUREAU

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS PERPLEX SENATE COMMITTEE IN HEARING

RIGHT AT THE HEART OF EVERY PHASE OF THE INVESTIGATION

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The efforts of the senate committee investigating the veterans bureau were bent today toward solution of the many mysteries which have already gathered about the probe.

After six days of hearing extending over a period of nearly two weeks, the committee was beset today with unanswered questions at the heart of every phase of the investigation.

A flat charge of falsehood in reply to testimony that he had arbitrarily raised the rental of the farm of E. L. Morse at Excelsior Springs, Mo., from $77,000 to $90,000 on March 3, 1921, was made by former assistant secretary of the treasury Ewing LaPorte before the senate committee investigating the veterans bureau today.

"That isn't true—if they testified to that it isn't true," declared LaPorte.

"It is probably a deliberate falsehood—I think it is."

Previous witnesses had told the committee LaPorte had rushed the offer of terms to Morse through on the last day of the Wilson administration.

GERMAN CABINET SAYS FORMER CROWN PRINCE MAY RETURN HOME

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The German cabinet has agreed in "principle" that the former crown prince may return to Germany to live, the United Press was reliably informed today.

The crown prince agreed to give notice to the government when if ever he desires to return, government officials revealed.

It was stated, however, he did not intend to return immediately. The idea of the cabinet was that the former heir to the German throne could live unmolested and quietly in some place in Germany much as the former king of Saxony lives in Silesia.

The socialist members of the cabinet agreed to this proposal, it was learned.

PREMIERS GET FINAL RUM TREATY TERMS

U. S. COULD SEARCH SHIPS IN 12 MILE LIMIT—BRITISH COULD BRING LIQUOR UNDER SEAL

London, Nov. 1.—The final terms which will form the basis for an Anglo-American treaty to cope with rum running along the American coast were formally presented to the imperial conference by Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, late today.

Ambassador George E. Harvey and Lord Curzon agreed to the terms at an hour's conference in the foreign office yesterday.

The terms laid before the conference were:

The United States authorities will have the right to search any British ship within the 12 mile limits suspected of carrying liquor for smuggling purposes.

The United States will formally affirm by treaty the principle of the three mile limit for territorial waters.

British ships will have the right to carry liquor under seal into the territorial waters of the United States.

EXPRESS DOUBT AS TO VALIDITY

Washington, Nov. 1.—Doubt as to whether the proposed treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the extension of the three mile limit to twelve miles and allowing British ships to bring liquor into American waters, will be valid, was expressed by department of justice officials here today.

These officials were inclined to think that the validity of such a treaty which would overturn an opinion of the supreme court on a question of law which the court previously had upheld is not at all assured.

MORE THAN $100,000 IN BAD $20 AND $10 BILLS CIRCULATING IN WEST

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Four men were under arrest here today as city and federal authorities started a roundup throughout the middle west of men said to be operating a huge counterfeiting ring.

Federal agents, picking up the trail of the alleged counterfeiters in Kansas City, captured the men in an automobile here last night.

They were arraigned before United States Commissioner Glass and held on bonds of $2,500 each.

More than $100,000 in spurious twenty and ten dollar bills has been put in circulation in Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Milwaukee, Omaha, Rock Island Illinois and Chicago through the operations of the band, authorities believe.

At least a score of men in addition to the arrested were believed to be involved. Police announced the names of the men under arrest as Ralph C. Oldham, Lewis Kettler, Bob Witt, alias B. E. Edwards, and Edward C. Brown, the latter having been arrested in Minneapolis.

20 MORE RING MEMBERS SOUGHT

Six members of the ring already are under arrest. Joseph W. Brown, alias F. C. Bronson, was arrested here. Four men and a woman are held in Chicago.

Federal agents believe the ring circulated more than $100,000 in spurious ten and twenty dollar notes in a dozen midwest cities.

Alarmed by newspaper stories of Brown's arrest, some members of the gang fled from Kansas City and burned $50,000 worth of spurious money near Eldorado on their way to Chicago where they were arrested, according to word received here.

Agents are on the trail of several more members of the gang, they said. It is believed a score more are involved.

Free Trade a Dream, Says Premier Baldwin

Swansea, Wales, Nov. 1.—The proceedings of the political meeting which Premier Baldwin addressed here were overshadowed by the death of Andrew Bonar Law, to whom the premier paid eloquent tribute.

His speech dealt almost entirely with trade and unemployment questions.

"We must not be exposed to the merciless attacks of foreign competition," said the prime minister, "while our competitors can shield themselves behind the walls of their high tariffs."

Contending that the system of free trade, introduced when steam was in its childhood and electricity had not been utilized, was surely ripe for revision, he remarked:

"The dream of universal free trade was only a dream, and cannot be dreamed today."

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The German cabinet has agreed in "principle" that the former crown prince may return to Germany to live, the United Press was reliably informed today.

The crown prince agreed to give notice to the government when if ever he desires to return, government officials revealed.

It was stated, however, he did not intend to return immediately. The idea of the cabinet was that the former heir to the German throne could live unmolested and quietly in some place in Germany much as the former king of Saxony lives in Silesia.

The socialist members of the cabinet agreed to this proposal, it was learned.

PREMIERS GET FINAL RUM TREATY TERMS

U. S. COULD SEARCH SHIPS IN 12 MILE LIMIT—BRITISH COULD BRING LIQUOR UNDER SEAL

London, Nov. 1.—The final terms which will form the basis for an Anglo-American treaty to cope with rum running along the American coast were formally presented to the imperial conference by Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, late today.

Ambassador George E. Harvey and Lord Curzon agreed to the terms at an hour's conference in the foreign office yesterday.

The terms laid before the conference were:

The United States authorities will have the right to search any British ship within the 12 mile limits suspected of carrying liquor for smuggling purposes.

The United States will formally affirm by treaty the principle of the three mile limit for territorial waters.

British ships will have the right to carry liquor under seal into the territorial waters of the United States.

EXPRESS DOUBT AS TO VALIDITY

Washington, Nov. 1.—Doubt as to whether the proposed treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the extension of the three mile limit to twelve miles and allowing British ships to bring liquor into American waters, will be valid, was expressed by department of justice officials here today.

These officials were inclined to think that the validity of such a treaty which would overturn an opinion of the supreme court on a question of law which the court previously had upheld is not at all assured.

BEER WAR VICTIM LYING NEAR DEATH

WHITNEY, DRY AGENT, HAS ONLY SLIGHT CHANCE FOR LIFE, PHYSICIANS SAY

St. Cloud, Nov. 1.—Arthur E. Whitney, federal prohibition agent who was wounded in a battle with beer thieves at the New Munich, Minn., brewery two weeks ago, was reported near death at St. Raphael's hospital here.

Physicians said Whitney had only a slight chance for life. He has been unconscious, or semiconscious, since he was found in the road with a fractured skull, and has been unable to tell how he was injured.

Mrs. Ann Murphy Whitney, his wife, is ill at Acker hospital, St. Paul. She has a baby daughter, six days old.

4 MEN ARRESTED IN CHICAGO AND CHARGED IN RING

FEDERAL AGENTS PICKED UP TRAIL IN KANSAS CITY, GOT MEN IN AUTOMOBILE

MORE THAN $100,000 IN BAD $20 AND $10 BILLS CIRCULATING IN WEST

(By United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Four men were under arrest here today as city and federal authorities started a roundup throughout the middle west of men said to be operating a huge counterfeiting ring.

Federal agents, picking up the trail of the alleged counterfeiters in Kansas City, captured the men in an automobile here last night.

They were arraigned before United States Commissioner Glass and held on bonds of $2,500 each.

More than $100,000 in spurious twenty and ten dollar bills has been put in circulation in Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Milwaukee, Omaha, Rock Island Illinois and Chicago through the operations of the band, authorities believe.

At least a score of men in addition to the arrested were believed to be involved. Police announced the names of the men under arrest as Ralph C. Oldham, Lewis Kettler, Bob Whit, alias B. E. Edwards, and Edward C. Brown, the latter having been arrested in Minneapolis.

20 MORE RING MEMBERS SOUGHT

St. Paul, Nov. 1.—Twenty more members of a huge counterfeiters' ring which operated throughout the middle west are sought, federal authorities said today.

Six members of the ring already are under arrest. Joseph W. Brown, alias F. C. Bronson, was arrested here. Four men and a woman are held in Chicago.

Federal agents believe the ring circulated more than $100,000 in spurious ten and twenty dollar notes in a dozen midwest cities.

Alarmed by newspaper stories of Brown's arrest, some members of the gang fled from Kansas City and burned $50,000 worth of spurious money near Eldorado on their way to Chicago where they were arrested, according to word received here.

Agents are on the trail of several more members of the gang, they said. It is believed a score more are involved.

RAISED $10 BILLS IN NEBRASKA

Norfolk, Nebr., Nov. 1. — Police searched today for two men who yesterday passed raised ten dollar bills here.

Two merchants were said to be victims of the men who were passing $2 bills raised to $10 denominations.

Free Trade a Dream, Says Premier Baldwin

Swansea, Wales, Nov. 1.—The proceedings of the political meeting which Premier Baldwin addressed here were overshadowed by the death of Andrew Bonar Law, to whom the premier paid eloquent tribute.

His speech dealt almost entirely with trade and unemployment questions.

"We must not be exposed to the merciless attacks of foreign competition," said the prime minister, "while our competitors can shield themselves behind the walls of their high tariffs."

Contending that the system of free trade, introduced when steam was in its childhood and electricity had not been utilized, was surely ripe for revision, he remarked:

"The dream of universal free trade was only a dream, and cannot be dreamed today."

SPIRITUALIST EXPECTS TO FIND LOST BOAT

(By United Press) Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 1.—The American Girl, small schooner, sailed the waters of Lake Michigan today under the direction of a "spirit" in the hunt for the wreck of the Forelle. Robert T. Roberts, Milwaukee spiritualist, really is the director of the boat, but the spirit is working through him he told to crew.

Early today the American Girl with Roberts and including in her crew Carl Meyer, son of Julius Meyer, engineer and part owner of the Forelle, who went down with the vessel, sailed for a point several miles from the Milwaukee shore. When last seen on September 20, the Forelle was within 50 miles of Milwaukee. She disappeared in a storm that night. The vessel was loaded with grapes and carried a crew of five men, none of whom escaped.

WAS CERTIFIED IN CLASS A STANDARD

American College of Surgeons So Reports on St. Joseph Hospital of Brainerd

WHY RECOGNITION ACCORDED

People of Brainerd and Vicinity Congratulate Hospital on Its Achievement

The American College of Surgeons, having just completed the sixth annual survey of the hospitals in the United States and Canada, reported their findings at the meeting which was held in Chicago last week. St. Joseph's hospital of Brainerd was accepted as a Class A, standard hospital. There are in the State of Minnesota 20 hospitals with a capacity of 50 to 100 beds in which class St. Joseph's hospital comes. Out of these only nine have been accepted as standard hospitals.

Brainerd has reason to congratulate itself on having one of the nine standard hospitals of this size to be found in the State of Minnesota.

Hospital standardization is an international movement including in its scope all general hospitals of over 50 beds in the United States and Canada. It is carried on by the American College of Surgeons whose membership is picked from both North and South America. This progressive movement, by applying certain inherent principles, aims at establishing and maintaining increased efficiency, to the best interest of the patients. "It is the desire of the college that through the carrying out of this program every individual receiving hospital treatment, regardless of race, color, creed or social status, shall receive the benefits of the most up-to-date and scientific procedures known to modern medicine. This is a humanitarian service with a basic idea that our hospitals are conducted entirely for the benefit of the patient."

The minimum standards for recognition briefly summarized are as follows: The organization of a medical staff consisting of competent, ethical members who draw up rules governing professional work in the hospital, supervise professional activities, hold regular meetings and give assistance to the administration of the hospital. A second general requirement is the providing of case records which must be carefully secured and filed and when completed give a full record of the case treated, from the first examination and including a follow-up which is essential if the record is to be complete. It is further demanded that diagnostic and therapeutic facilities be provided. In this regard special reference is made to laboratory and X-ray services. In all of these divisions very specific requirements which take up all of the details and which include all modern advances are rigidly insisted upon, and until these requirements are met hospitals are never granted a Class A. standing.

This hospital standardization is practically a new movement having been in operation for just six years and while still in its youth the survey of standard hospitals quotes figures to substantiate the claim to the following benefits: The shortening of the patient's stay in the hospital, the preventing of incompetent and unnecessary surgery, minimizing of infections and complications and lowering the death rate in hospitals.

The people of Brainerd and vicinity have reason to respect the administration of St. Joseph's and to appreciate their efforts directed to the end of providing first class hospitalization for them—efforts that have resulted in the local hospital taking its place with the few Class A hospitals of its size in the State of Minnesota. For this, as will be seen from the requirements of a Class A hospital, as given above, guarantees that the treatment they will receive and the records made will be up to the requirements of the American College of Surgeons whose demands are rigidly enforced.

Trout 29 Inches Long, Caught in Rapid Creek, Is S. D. State Record

Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 1—The largest trout ever caught in the state

so far as known, was taken from Rapid creek, just east of Rapid City by Art Jones. It was of the rainbow variety, weight 14½ pounds, measured 29 inches in length and 21 inches around.

That he was the grand daddy trout of them all was shown by the fact that he was so old he had lost his eyesight. Aged, lame, halt and blind, this monster who has defied the hooks of anglers and fly fishermen for years, swam in the shallows of the creek, became mired and was taken out of the water in a gunny sack. Game Warden Andrew Johnson brought the giant fish to Rapid City.

THE HISTORY OF A HALF DECADE

THE attempt made by the United States and Great Britain to secure rapprochement between the nations of Europe, leads to a review of the history of half a decade, which has been marked by a strange reversal of policy on the part of the nations.

In 1914 Germany was seeking a place in the sun and France was living in dread of the day when Germany would attack. England was living under the threat of an effort of Germany to cut off British possessions from the British Isles and then, that which was feared happened, and the world passed through four years of tragedy.

It is a far leap from the outbreak of the World war to the present time; indeed, even the date of the armistice seems far behind, for the years that have followed have been painfully long. They have been crowded with reversals of policy, an uncertainty of the future and a weakness of attack. The problems presented have been beyond the leaders of the nations, whose ability to face them firmly and intelligently has not been marked. Lloyd George's dealings with France were marked by vacillation and he feared to take a strong stand or to compromise the situation. The result of this is seen in the conditions of the present when Germany is going to pieces and there seems to be but little hope of restoring Europe.

Half a decade ago the German people had lost their morale and the days of their resistance were numbered. The strident militarism of the German nation had been met and its ambitious program checked. Today Germany is living in despair, the spirit of the people is crushed, and the fearful France of 1914 is lording it over her prostrate foe. France and Germany have changed places and France is seeking her place in the sun.

But not by this reversal alone does the review complete the story of half a decade. The United States, which gave to Europe its catchwords during the later months of the struggle and inspired the disheartened peoples of the allied nations by an enthusiasm that looked not to the destruction of the German forces alone but to making the world safe for democracy, had no sooner finished her part in the fighting than she returned to her own shores willing to "let the rest of the world go by."

These are but a few of the reversals which have resulted in the military tread of a new power, in giving ascendancy to the crescent in Turkey, in destroying the possibility of any stability in Europe for a decade and more, in bringing into prominence dictators in Europe and creating a condition of affairs marked by an absence of any consistent policy with regard to the troubled affairs of an unstable world order.

But such is the penalty of war. Conflict leaves the victors weak. The prophet under the tree, weary after his struggle with the enemy's forces, was unable to gather himself together and play the man when the enemy had been defeated. Mars reigned in Europe for four years and Mars must smile to see the result of this reign. Half a decade ago the disciples of Mars were appreciated as the saviors of the world, by the might of Mars the world would be changed into a place in which the weaker would be respected and a better age brought in, but since then men have feared the reign of Mars and out of this fear there has come a vacillation and a weakness that has resulted in reversals and in failure while Mars looks on and smiles.

And yet, despite all that has been seen in this half decade of futility following upon a World war, there are those who still believe that war must keep its place in the world order.

If the conference on reparations sounds a new note there is yet hope that civilization may not be destroyed, and the time of recuperation of energy has had a duration that ought to suffice. Now is the time for action looking to the future and now is the time for leaders to lead out of this uncertainty into paths that lead to some definite end.

CROW WING COUNTY'S AGENT PROVES HIS ABILITY

THE DISPATCH has recognized the splendid services of County Agent E. G. Roth and has in this column on several occasions expressed its appreciation of his activities. Few men attend to their duties with more interest and enthusiasm than E. G. Roth. He believes in Crow Wing county and is convinced that it has a bright future. When anyone says a disparaging word about the light soil of certain sections of the county he bristles up and defends even light soils by showing that good crops have been grown on them, crops as large as those produced on other and heavier soils.

It is through knowledge of soils that the county agent is so valuable a member of the agencies that are developing Crow Wing county. E. G. Roth has studied the soils, their nature, their treatment, their possibilities and how to call forth the best that is in them. Many in the county have appreciated the fact that he is wonderfully informed on all these matters and they were not at all surprised that in a national contest he should be one of the six winners. In this contest, open to all county agents in the United States, the awards were not given to those who guessed at an answer to some problem. The winner was required to discuss soils, their analysis, their improvement, the results of experiments looking to their improvement and to report successful treatment of soils and submit a description of plans and experiments contemplated in the future.

It was in such a contest as this that E. G. Roth took his place among the first six of the contestants, who are from all parts of the United States. The people of Crow Wing county congratulate their agent on his success, appreciate his activity in building up the county and attempting to successfully meet the problems that are presented from time to time, and rejoice in their good fortune in having as their agricultural agent an agriculturist who can enter a national contest and carry off the honors.

INCREASE IN WHEAT TARIFF

A CONFERENCE of leaders of groups interested in the price of wheat which met in the office of Governor J. A. O. Preus sent a telegram to the president and to congressmen asking for a 50 per cent increase in the tariff on wheat. This request is made because the men gathered in conference believe that something must be done to help the farmer whose income for his wheat is not equal to the cost of growing it. But while the request is prompted by an emergency, recommendations that are born of emergencies should be carefully studied lest in the end they defeat their purpose and create more problems than they solve.

The increase in the tariff, asked of the tariff commission, is demanded for the express purpose of preventing the inflow of Canadian wheat which tends to keep down the price of wheat grown in the United States. Therefore, if the recommendation is acted on, Canadian wheat growers will be compelled to take some action to dispose of their wheat, and if they fail to dispose of it they will not feel kindly towards their neighbors over the border who invited this increase in the tariff for their own protection when the Canadian growers are in the same fix as their American neighbors.

President Harding asked that a provision should be written into the last tariff legislation by which it would be kept flexible, by allowing the tariff commission to make such changes as seemed desirable when the effect on the tariff rates was seen, and this makes possible the accepting of the request of the wheat growers and those doing business with them. But while the American tariff laws are flexible the British government exists under a pledge that it will not interfere with the tariffs on imports, and the Baldwin ministry is therefore held to this pledge, and before interfering with the tariff it would be required to appeal to the country, which is not predisposed to ask a tariff on food stuffs which would raise the price to the consumer and the more especially when so many of the consumers are unemployed.

Of course, each group and each nation must look out for its own interests, but in looking out for these it may bring into existence a spirit of hostility that promises retaliation in the future. Tariff walls can always be built and they can be built just as high as their builders care to make them but, unfortunately, other builders may build still higher and the process may go on until the height of the walls is such that the persons wanting the goods behind the walls have a hard time climbing the walls to get at them.

Tariffs which are deliberately aimed at one particular industry and which are called into being for the express purpose of prohibiting the inflow of produce, raised under conditions similar to those under which the produce is raised which seeks protection, and whose producers are up against a set of conditions exactly similar to those existing for those who seek this protection, are bound to create feelings of antagonism.

The conditions in Canada and the United States are such that discrimination of this character is not likely to serve any useful purpose but is likely to create hard feelings which will bring about worse results than those removed by the recommendation. Co-operation is highly desirable in marketing wheat and competition is an evil that the producers are advised to discard. Therefore, at a time when apostles of co-operation are preaching against dumping and are suggesting that Canadian and American wheat growers get together in their own interests in marketing their produce, it does not seem reasonable that this discrimination, which is so obviously directed against a certain group, should be introduced by the tariff commission.

It is not likely that this will help the growers to any considerable extent. There is talk of exporting 50,000,000 bushels of wheat to Germany but this wheat will be in competition with the Canadian surplus and it is not likely that Germany will pay a higher price for American than for Canadian wheat. Emergency legislation often meets one emergency to create another, and emergency legislation will not create markets where no markets exist. The problem is too grave to invite tinkering with it. It is clearly a case of supply and demand and tariffs won't make the demand any higher or the world supply any less.

BONAR LAW

THE death of Bonar Law, who for a short time served in the most important place in the British system of government, resulted from his voluntary service for his country at a time when his conciliatory spirit and friendly nature helped to compose the discordant elements in the nation's political life.

As chancellor of the exchequer, during the latter part of the war and the years just following its end, this former Canadian poured his energies into the duties of an office that would have taxed the strength of a man more robust than he. Finally the condition of his health forced his resignation and he did not come back to parliament until he entered to plead the cause of the Irish people when the Free State was under consideration.

He had not always favored such a policy for Ireland, but the condition of things at the time when the attempt was made to settle the question was such that he favored the liberty of action granted by the new arrangement.

Bonar Law accepted the premiership because he felt that he could serve his country by welding the members of the conservative party into a unity strong enough to carry on amid the disordered industrial and economic life of his nation. His tenure of office was not long and it is hard to appraise his services as premier. His policies have not been cast aside by his successor nor were his policies very different from those espoused by Lloyd George.

The history of British government in the past decade suggests that it requires more skill and leadership to promote the ends of the country in peace than in war. Lloyd George was a remarkable war premier but he failed to carry the people with him when he faced the problems of a war-torn Europe, and when he failed it was not likely that in a short period another premier would succeed.

Bonar Law will be remembered more because of his splendid qualities than because of signal service. He was able to forget personalities and the sternest battles with political opponents within parliament did not interfere with friendship outside of the house of commons. With those who did not agree with him, he agreed to disagree and friendships remained unbroken.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT's democratic hat may not look well in a republican convention. Around convention time there's a cleavage.

Keats Hard to Appreciate.

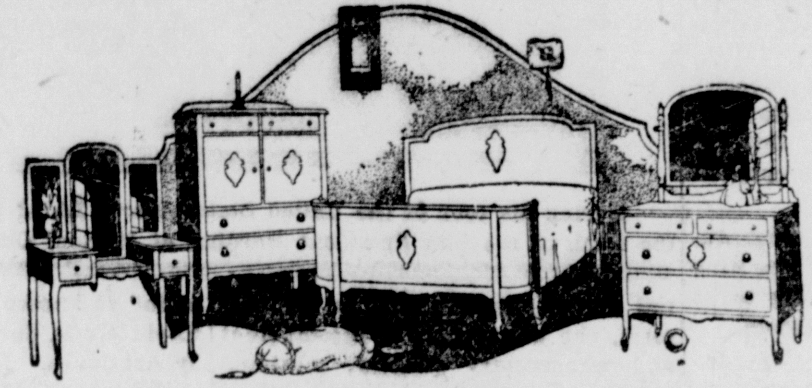

He is not a poet easily appreciated. He does not appeal to the young; this is because of the extraordinary finish and fullness of his lines, which demand constant effort of imagination and fancy to read correctly; there is, moreover, scarcely any story in the larger part of his works. He did not give us anything new in the way of form. The secret of his power lies in his quality—sonorousness of phrase, splendor of color, and a sort of divine intuition in choice of words. He did this by studying and absorbing the best work of his contemporaries and fusing them together in a new form of expression. He summarized and utilized all the forces of the moment, and so taught the generations after him how to do the same thing. He was especially the eclectic poet of his time; he had the Greek gift of lucidity.—Lafayette Hearns.

Eucalyptus Oil.

Eucalyptus oil comes from the blue-gum or eucalyptus tree. Australia grows 120 varieties. It is an evergreen and grows to great heights. Probably the first eucalyptus trees imported into America are still growing in Alameda, California, the home of Bishop William Taylor. When the bishop went to Australia he was struck with the beauty of these trees, and in 1849 he sent some seeds home to his wife, who planted them in her greenhouse. When the young trees were 18 inches high, they were transplanted outside. After two years, they were about five feet high and doing extremely well. The bishop was requested to send more seeds, which Mrs. Taylor promised to raise and give to the ranchers, explaining their merits. The wood is particularly hard, and when well seasoned, is excellent for furniture. When a eucalyptus tree is cut even to the ground, it will send out new shoots and grow again.

THE HISTORY OF A HALF DECADE

THE attempt made by the United States and Great Britain to secure rapprochement between the nations of Europe, leads to a review of the history of half a decade, which has been marked by a strange reversal of policy on the part of the nations.

In 1914 Germany was seeking a place in the sun and France was living in dread of the day when Germany would attack. England was living under the threat of an effort of Germany to cut off British possessions from the British Isles and then, that which was feared happened, and the world passed through four years of tragedy.

It is a far leap from the outbreak of the World war to the present time; indeed, even the date of the armistice seems far behind, for the years that have followed have been painfully long. They have been crowded with reversals of policy, an uncertainty of the future and a weakness of attack. The problems presented have been beyond the leaders of the nations, whose ability to face them firmly and intelligently has not been marked. Lloyd George's dealings with France were marked by vacillation and he feared to take a strong stand or to compromise the situation. The result of this is seen in the conditions of the present when Germany is going to pieces and there seems to be but little hope of restoring Europe.

Half a decade ago the German people had lost their morale and the days of their resistance were numbered. The strident militarism of the German nation had been met and its ambitious program checked. Today Germany is living in despair, the spirit of the people is crushed, and the fearful France of 1914 is lording it over her prostrate foe. France and Germany have changed places and France is seeking her place in the sun.

But not by this reversal alone does the review complete the story of half a decade. The United States, which gave to Europe its catchwords during the later months of the struggle and inspired the disheartened peoples of the allied nations by an enthusiasm that looked not to the destruction of the German forces alone but to making the world safe for democracy, had no sooner finished her part in the fighting than she returned to her own shores willing to "let the rest of the world go by."

These are but a few of the reversals which have resulted in the military tread of a new power, in giving ascendancy to the crescent in Turkey, in destroying the possibility of any stability in Europe for a decade and more, in bringing into prominence dictators in Europe and creating a condition of affairs marked by an absence of any consistent policy with regard to the troubled affairs of an unstable world order.

But such is the penalty of war. Conflict leaves the victors weak. The prophet under the tree, weary after his struggle with the enemy's forces, was unable to gather himself together and play the man when the enemy had been defeated. Mars reigned in Europe for four years and Mars must smile to see the result of this reign. Half a decade ago the disciples of Mars were appreciated as the saviors of the world, by the might of Mars the world would be changed into a place in which the weaker would be respected and a better age brought in, but since then men have feared the reign of Mars and out of this fear there has come a vacillation and a weakness that has resulted in reversals and in failure while Mars looks on and smiles.

And yet, despite all that has been seen in this half decade of futility following upon a World war, there are those who still believe that war must keep its place in the world order.

If the conference on reparations sounds a new note there is yet hope that civilization may not be destroyed, and the time of recuperation of energy has had a duration that ought to suffice. Now is the time for action looking to the future and now is the time for leaders to lead out of this uncertainty into paths that lead to some definite end.

CROW WING COUNTY'S AGENT PROVES HIS ABILITY

THE DISPATCH has recognized the splendid services of County Agent E. G. Roth and has in this column on several occasions expressed its appreciation of his activities. Few men attend to their duties with more interest and enthusiasm than E. G. Roth. He believes in Crow Wing county and is convinced that it has a bright future. When anyone says a disparaging word about the light soil of certain sections of the county he bristles up and defends even light soils by showing that good crops have been grown on them, crops as large as those produced on other and heavier soils.

It is through knowledge of soils that the county agent is so valuable a member of the agencies that are developing Crow Wing county. E. G. Roth has studied the soils, their nature, their treatment, their possibilities and how to call forth the best that is in them. Many in the county have appreciated the fact that he is wonderfully informed on all these matters and they were not at all surprised that in a national contest he should be one of the six winners. In this contest, open to all county agents in the United States, the awards were not given to those who guessed at an answer to some problem. The winner was required to discuss soils, their analysis, their improvement, the results of experiments looking to their improvement and to report successful treatment of soils and submit a description of plans and experiments contemplated in the future.

It was in such a contest as this that E. G. Roth took his place among the first six of the contestants, who are from all parts of the United States. The people of Crow Wing county congratulate their agent on his success, appreciate his activity in building up the county and attempting to successfully meet the problems that are presented from time to time, and rejoice in their good fortune in having as their agricultural agent an agriculturist who can enter a national contest and carry off the honors.

INCREASE IN WHEAT TARIFF

A CONFERENCE of leaders of groups interested in the price of wheat which met in the office of Governor J. A. O. Preus sent a telegram to the president and to congressmen asking for a 50 per cent increase in the tariff on wheat. This request is made because the men gathered in conference believe that something must be done to help the farmer whose income for his wheat is not equal to the cost of growing it. But while the request is prompted by an emergency, recommendations that are born of emergencies should be carefully studied lest in the end they defeat their purpose and create more problems than they solve.

The increase in the tariff, asked of the tariff commission, is demanded for the express purpose of preventing the inflow of Canadian wheat which tends to keep down the price of wheat grown in the United States. Therefore, if the recommendation is acted on, Canadian wheat growers will be compelled to take some action to dispose of their wheat, and if they fail to dispose of it they will not feel kindly towards their neighbors over the border who invited this increase in the tariff for their own protection when the Canadian growers are in the same fix as their American neighbors.

President Harding asked that a provision should be written into the last tariff legislation by which it would be kept flexible, by allowing the tariff commission to make such changes as seemed desirable when the effect on the tariff rates was seen, and this makes possible the accepting of the request of the wheat growers and those doing business with them. But while the American tariff laws are flexible the British government exists under a pledge that it will not interfere with the tariffs on imports, and the Baldwin ministry is therefore held to this pledge, and before interfering with the tariff it would be required to appeal to the country, which is not predisposed to ask a tariff on food stuffs which would raise the price to the consumer and the more especially when so many of the consumers are unemployed.

Of course, each group and each nation must look out for its own interests, but in looking out for these it may bring into existence a spirit of hostility that promises retaliation in the future. Tariff walls can always be builded and they can be built just as high as their builders care to make them but, unfortunately, other builders may build still higher and the process may go on until the height of the walls is such that the persons wanting the goods behind the walls have a hard time climbing the walls to get at them.

Tariffs which are deliberately aimed at one particular industry and which are called into being for the express purpose of prohibiting the inflow of produce, raised under conditions similar to those under which the produce is raised which seeks protection, and whose producers are up against a set of conditions exactly similar to those existing for those who seek this protection, are bound to create feelings of antagonism.

The conditions in Canada and the United States are such that discrimination of this character is not likely to serve any useful purpose but is likely to create hard feelings which will bring about worse results than those removed by the recommendation. Co-operation is highly desirable in marketing wheat and competition is an evil that the producers are advised to discard. Therefore, at a time when apostles of cooperation are preaching against dumping and are suggesting that Canadian and American wheat growers get together in their own interests in marketing their produce, it does not seem reasonable that this discrimination, which is so obviously directed against a certain group, should be introduced by the tariff commission.

It is not likely that this will help the growers to any considerable extent. There is talk of exporting 50,000,000 bushels of wheat to Germany but this wheat will be in competition with the Canadian surplus and it is not likely that Germany will pay a higher price for American than for Canadian wheat. Emergency legislation often meets one emergency to create another, and emergency legislation will not create markets where no markets exist. The problem is too grave to invite tinkering with it. It is clearly a case of supply and demand and tariffs won't make the demand any higher or the world supply any less.

BONAR LAW

THE death of Bonar Law, who for a short time served in the most important place in the British system of government, resulted from his voluntary service for his country at a time when his conciliatory spirit and friendly nature helped to compose the discordant elements in the nation's political life.

As chancellor of the exchequer, during the latter part of the war and the years just following its end, this former Canadian poured his energies into the duties of an office that would have taxed the strength of a man more robust than he. Finally the condition of his health forced his resignation and he did not come back to parliament until he entered to plead the cause of the Irish people when the Free State was under consideration.

He had not always favored such a policy for Ireland, but the condition of things at the time when the attempt was made to settle the question was such that he favored the liberty of action granted by the new arrangement.

Bonar Law accepted the premiership because he felt that he could serve his country by welding the members of the conservative party into a unity strong enough to carry on amid the disordered industrial and economic life of his nation. His tenure of office was not long and it is hard to appraise his services as premier. His policies have not been cast aside by his successor nor were his policies very different from those espoused by Lloyd George.

The history of British government in the past decade suggests that it requires more skill and leadership to promote the ends of the country in peace than in war. Lloyd George was a remarkable war premier but he failed to carry the people with him when he faced the problems of a war-torn Europe, and when he failed it was not likely that in a short period another premier would succeed.

Bonar Law will be remembered more because of his splendid qualities than because of signal service. He was able to forget personalities and the sternest battles with political opponents within parliament did not interfere with friendship outside of the house of commons. With those who did not agree with him, he agreed to disagree and friendships remained unbroken.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT'S democratic hat may not look well in a republican convention. Around convention time there's a cleavage.

Keats Hard to Appreciate.

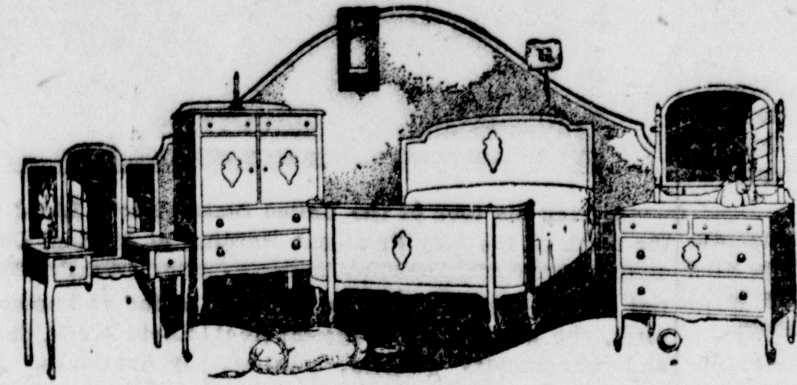

He is not a poet easily appreciated. He does not appeal to the young; this is because of the extraordinary finish and fullness of his lines, which demand constant effort of imagination and fancy to read correctly; there is, moreover, scarcely any story in the larger part of his works. He did not give us anything new in the way of form. The secret of his power lies in his quality—sonorousness of phrase, splendor of color, and a sort of divine intuition in choice of words. He did this by studying and absorbing the best work of his contemporaries and fusing them together in a new form of expression. He summarized and utilized all the forces of the moment, and so taught the generations after him how to do the same thing. He was especially the eclectic poet of his time; he had the Greek gift of lucidity.—Lafayette Hearn.

Eucalyptus Oil.

Eucalyptus oil comes from the blue gum or eucalyptus tree. Australia grows 120 varieties. It is an evergreen and grows to great heights. Probably the first eucalyptus trees imported into America are still growing in Alameda, California, the home of Bishop William Taylor. When the bishop went to Australia he was struck with the beauty of these trees, and in 1849 he sent some seeds home to his wife, who planted them in her greenhouse. When the young trees were 18 inches high, they were transplanted outside. After two years, they were about five feet high and doing extremely well. The bishop was requested to send more seeds, which Mrs. Taylor promised to raise and give to the ranchers, explaining their merits. The wood is particularly hard, and when well seasoned, is excellent for furniture. When a eucalyptus tree is cut even to the ground, it will send out new shoots and grow again.

GAME AND FISH COMMISSION

State Department Takes Action and Reduces Flowage Over Dam From 40 to 25 Cubic Feet

A. M. Opsahl in receipt of a letter from James F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, relative to the maintaining of a higher water level in Gull lake.

Several weeks ago, the game and fish department met a number of local citizens at the Gull lake dam, and went over the situation carefully. It was brought out at that meeting that a flowage of forty cubic feet per minute had been maintained over the dam, to keep up the fish life below, and the promise was made that if a lesser flowage would be sufficient to the fish, the amount would be cut down.

In Mr. Gould's letter, he advises that Thaddeus Suber, superintendent of the state fish hatcheries and department biologist, will be in Brainerd in the near future for the purpose of getting first hand information on the matter, and estimating the required amount of flowage.

The department has already decided that forty cubic feet per minute is a waste of water, and this amount was cut down shortly after the meeting to about twenty-five feet, according to Mr. Opsahl, who believes that as small an amount as ten feet would be sufficient.

The reduction of the flowage over the dam would maintain a higher level in the lake, which is the result that is desired by all. But enough must go over the dam to furnish fresh water to the natural fish hatchery below in the Gull river. This hatchery may be improved before another season, according to present plans.

NOVEL WINDOW DISPLAYS

Elektrik Maid Bake Shop and Perry Hardware Co. Are Attractive Ones

Several Brainerd store windows are drawing considerable attention because of their novel displays.

One of these is the Elektrik Maid Bake Shop, with its Hallowe'en decorations. In one window shocks of corn and pumpkins predominate, with witches chasing black cats around the border of the window. The display on the other side of the door shows ginger-bread boys and girls dressed in Hallowe'en costumes. Hallowe'en decorations are used throughout the store.

The windows of the Perry Hardware Co. have just been trimmed exclusively with dolls, which quite naturally is drawing the attention and admiration of the little folks. This is one of the first windows to be devoted to holiday goods, the company specializing in a toyland department.

There are dolls on display of every kind and every size, with a big assortment of the popular "Mama" dolls. There are dolls in automobiles, in go-carts, on kiddie cars, in swings, on teeters, and a long line shooting the chutes.

Around the edge of the window an electric train, "The Doll Special" is averaging express-train speed, and incidentally drawing crowds of boys at the same time that the dolls attract the little misses.

Mr. Perry states that he has doubled his stock of toys for this season, and is specializing on many new and novel kinds. He anticipates one of the largest holiday seasons in a number of years.

School children on the streets Thursday and Friday are not to be taken at all, says Superintendent W. C. Cobb.

NEW ASSISTANT TO FOREST RANGER

Dick Willems, Former Forest Ranger in District No. 11 to Assist E. H. Rhodes

MOVING FAMILY TO THE CITY

A Few Peat Fires Burning in Vicinity, But Are Being Closely Watched

Dick Willems, former forest ranger in district No. 11, with headquarters at Waskish near Kelliher, has been assigned to the Brainerd district as assistant to Ranger T. H. Rhodes, and is moving his family to this city.

The forest fire danger is practically over for this season, states Mr. Willems. Fires which in former years have wrought much havoc during September and October, were averted in the majority of the northern Minnesota districts, and little trouble is expected from them this fall. District No. 11 is in such good shape in this respect that the forester's services there were not considered necessary, hence Mr. Willems transfer to Brainerd, where he will work in the office during the coming winter, while Mr. Rhodes is out on a timber marking expedition.

There are a few peat fires in the vicinity of Brainerd, but all are being watched closely and where it is possible pumps are being used on them in the hope of extinguishing them with water.

This is the first season in many years that the public has had such assurance of freedom from the forest fire danger. There has been much loss of property and in many cases loss of life each fall when the fires have swept over Northern Minnesota.

The state forestry department has been conducting a campaign of education along fire prevention lines, and the foresters have kept a close vigilance for fire sources, which has reduced the hazard this year to a minimum.

AUGUST POTTILA DIED

Death Came From a Tumor of the Spine, for Which He Was Treated at a Local Hospital

August Pottila, aged forty years, died at a local hospital Wednesday, death resulting from a tumor of the spine.

Deceased came to Brainerd from Calumet, Minn., last July, and has been in the hospital ever since.

His wife died seven years ago in Sebeke. The only living relatives are a son, aged thirteen years, an aunt in Kokato, and two cousins, David and John Vanni, of Brainerd.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the D. E. Whitney chapel, Rev. O. S. Winther of the Bethlehem Lutheran church, officiating. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

Men's Club

The Men's Club of the Bethlehem Lutheran church will meet on Friday evening in the church parlors, entertained by Andrew Holm, Perry Dahlvang and L. C. Conradson. The public is cordially invited to visit the club at this time.

Prayer Meeting

Attention is called to the weekly prayer meeting this evening at 7:30 at the Bethlehem Lutheran church. A full attendance is desired.

ROY SHERLUND GETS RADIO

Far North Basking in Sunshine and But Little Snow Has Fallen

Louis Sherlund has a solution for the complaint that northern ducks are not coming in large flights this fall. The weather in the north is unusually warm.

Roy Sherlund received a radio message from Alaska on Wednesday evening, giving the weather conditions in that section, which puts the cold wave experienced in Minnesota recently to shame.

The coldest that Alaska reports is 52 above, according to the radio. This is a condition that old timers in that territory have never known in previous years. Usually all water travel is tied up about the first of October.

Coast steamers abandoned their trips a month ago, but the radio message stated that this was done by the calendar, and not because weather conditions.

It was also stated that one of the large motion picture producing companies, that has had a troupe in Alaska for the past three weeks, waiting for snow in order to take pictures of "The Far North" are still anxiously awaiting a fall of the beautiful.

Many gold seekers who make a pilgrimage into the interior with dog teams and sleds, are also patiently waiting for snow. There have been numerous rains, and all the trails are so muddy that they are impassable.

Sportsmen will await with interest an announcement that the Five thousand delegates from all parts of Minnesota will attend the convention, which began this morning and continues Saturday afternoon, with many general, sectional and business meetings scheduled.

An excellent program, with prominent speakers has been planned. Among the latter are Dr. E. H. Lindsey, chancellor of the University of Kansas, E. T. Lies, director of the playground and recreation association of Chicago, and Dr. Arthur T. McCormack, secretary of the Kentucky board of health.

Members of the high school training teachers division will also meet at this time, but the State Teachers College division will offer no special program, it has been announced.

The amount thus paid out and credited to the stockholders in this association totaled $4,846.72.

NEW ASSISTANT TO FOREST RANGER

Dick Willems, Former Forest Ranger in District No. 11 to Assist E. H. Rhodes

MOVING FAMILY TO THE CITY

A Few Peat Fires Burning in Vicinity, But Are Being Closely Watched

Dick Willems, former forest ranger in district No. 11, with headquarters at Waskish near Kelliher, has been assigned to Ranger T. H. Rhodes, and is moving his family to this city.

The forest fire danger is practically over for this season, states Mr. Willems. Fires which in former years have wrought much havoc during September and October, were averted in the majority of the northern Minnesota districts, and little trouble is expected from them this fall. District No. 11 is in such good shape in this respect that the forester's services there were not considered necessary, hence Mr. Willems transfer to Brainerd, where he will work in the office during the coming winter, while Mr. Rhodes is out on a timber-marking expedition.

There are a few peat fires in the vicinity of Brainerd, but all are being watched closely and where it is possible pumps are being used on them in the hope of extinguishing them with water.

This is the first season in many years that the public has had such assurance of freedom from the forest fire danger. There has been much loss of property and in many cases loss of life each fall when the fires have swept over Northern Minnesota.

The state forestry department has been conducting a campaign of education along fire prevention lines, and the foresters have kept a close vigilance for fires sources, which has reduced the hazard this year to a minimum.

Warm 52 Degree Weather is the Rule in Alaska in Far North

ROY SHERLUND GETS RADIO

Far North Basking in Sunshine and But Little Snow Has Fallen

Louis Sherlund has a solution for the complaint that northern ducks are not coming in large flights this fall. The weather in the north is unusually warm.

Roy Sherlund received a radio message from Alaska on Wednesday evening, giving the weather conditions in that section, which puts the cold wave experienced in Minnesota recently to shame.

The coldest that Alaska reports is 52 above, according to the radio. This is a condition that old timers in that territory have never known in previous years. Usually all water travel is tied up about the first of October.

Coast steamers abandoned their trips a month ago, but the radio message stated that this was done by the calendar, and not because weather conditions.

It was also stated that one of the large motion picture producing companies, that has had a troupe in Alaska for the past three weeks, waiting for snow in order to take pictures of "The Far North" are still anxiously awaiting a fall of the beautiful.

Many gold seekers who make a pilgrimage into the interior with dog teams and sleds, are also patiently waiting for snow. There have been numerous rains, and all the trails are so muddy that they are impassable.

Sportsmen will await with interest an announcement that the

LITTLE GIRLS, look at Dolly May. Look at the picture I show here. She is the prettiest and "darlingest" doll you ever saw, and as nearly like a live baby as any doll could ever be. INTERNATIONAL RACE MAY BE A FIXTURE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 1.—Along with tennis, golf, polo, yacht racing and track and field athletics, thoroughbred racing is almost sure to become an established international sport as a result of the Zev-Papyrus race.

Only sufficient inducement to horse owners is required to have established an international race annually to decide the three-year-old championship of the world.

The $5,000 gold challenge cup, won for the first time by Zev, provides a fitting trophy, and if a generous purse can be offered in the future there is little doubt that the annual cup race can be made just as interesting an event as the American Cup yacht races, the Olympic games and other old established classics.

To make such an event permanent it must necessarily be founded upon principles of true sportsmanship and it must provide that the handicap upon the competitors is distributed.

International sport contests, especially between England and the United States, have done much to cultivate friendly relations between the two nations and it is certain that a horse race would not endanger that friendship, as long as the United States would agree to be a good sport in the conduct of the race.

If the deed of title to the cup won from Papyrus by Zev provides that challengers must come to the United States until the cup is won by a horse representing another nation, this cup race will never survive, because the terms would be obviously unfair in that they would give the American horse all the better of it.

Only the admirable sportsmanship of Sir Thomas Lipton, the English yachtsman, has kept alive the competition for the classic American Cup. No other sportsman in the world but Sir Thomas would throw away the fortune that he has expended in the effort to beat a 100 to 1 shot.

The deed for America's Cup provides that the race shall be sailed in the home waters of the cup-holding nation, and it imposes an almost hopeless handicap in requiring that the challenging yacht must be sailed to the scene of the races.

Under these conditions Sir Thomas must build a challenger rugged enough to withstand the hardships of a trip across the Atlantic and, when it does survive this great task, it must speed with a fragile, bird-like craft that can hardly hold its head up against the slightest wind.

Obviously the element of sportsmanship, under these conditions, is almost entirely removed and the United States certainly cannot boast about its success in defending the cup when challengers have not the slightest chance to win it.

STARS OF TURF AT LATONIA TRACK

(By United Press)

Latonia Race Track, Ky., Nov. 1.—Zev, Harry P. Sinclair's crack three-year-old, is expected here this afternoon completing the picture that will come to life Saturday when Kentucky's hills will echo with the cheers for the winner of Latonia's championship.

My Own, closely guarded in his stall in barn 41 and in Memoriam, which will carry the hopes and cash of western turf men here were on the ground, ready for the battle. Rialto may come to match his much vaunted speed against that of the champion, but interested parties still center their hopes in the long anticipated meeting between Zev and Admiral C. T. Grayson's brown colt.

The weather man promises fair skies for the big day; a track that was ankle deep in mud in the early part of the week drying rapidly to a perfectness that will lend no handicap to any starters.

Sam Hildreth, trainer of Zev, said he preferred a muddy track, but it is agreed by the gathering throng of horsemen who are drifting into town today a fairly fast track offers the best test of the three champions' respective ability.

ZEV IS EASY VICTOR AT EMPIRE CITY

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 1.—Zev yesterday demonstrated that he is fit for the $50,000 championship race at Latonia next Saturday when he will meet My Own in what may prove the deciding three-year-old test of the year, by galloping to easy victory in the $5,000 autumn championship stakes, feature event of the closing day's card at Empire City track.

The race, at a mile for all ages, proved little more than a workout for the conqueror of Papyrus, which will be shipped tomorrow to Latonia. Ridden by Earl Sande and carrying 120 pounds, Zev breezed under the wire in 1:40 3-5, five lengths ahead of Bracade, a stable mate. Harry Payne Whitney's Tryster was third and Larkin, the only other starter, finished fourth.

Sande, who will ride Zev in the Latonia championship race, left for Cincinnati last night.

Sam Jones Honored

Woodsfield, O., Nov. 1.—"Sad" Sam Jones, pitcher of the New York Yankees, was a guest of honor when the "home town folks" tendered him and Mrs. Jones a banquet at the close of which "Sad Sam" was presented with a silver loving cup.

GIANTS NOW ONLY TEAM WITH CHANCE TO GET HORNSBY

New York, Nov. 1.—Rogers Hornsby, the National league's highest rated ball player, will work in the uniform of the New York Giants next summer if he is not retained by St. Louis Cardinals, it was learned from a reliable source.

Demanding players only in offers for the champion batsman, the Cards have eliminated from the running every club in the league but the Giants. No other manager but McGraw is prepared to give the Card owners what they think Hornsby is worth without wrecking their club.

STAR POLO PONY, HOMESICK, KILLS SELF

New York, Nov. 1.—Homesick for his old stall, Spaghettini, star polo pony, committed suicide at the Mitchell field army reservation. Spaghettini, owned by Major Terry Allen and ridden in the international military championship matches between American and British teams, had been turned out of his regular quarters to make room for the string brought by the invading players.

While being exercised, the pony broke away and collided head on with a wire fence and died a few moments later of a broken neck.

Major Allen is said to have refused an offer of $5,000 for the pony.

MINNEAPOLIS FIGHTER IS CALLED ON CARPET

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 1.—H. E. Kaewer was appointed inspector for Oshkosh at a meeting of the Wisconsin athletic commission here. Thos. Devine, Spooner, was granted a referee's license.

George Russell, Philadelphia lightweight, was ordered to appear before the commission on Nov. 15 to explain why he failed to go through with his bout with Johnny Mendicino here on Oct. 28.

Battling White, Minneapolis, and Jackey Nolan, La Crosse, were ordered to appear before the commission and explain why the referee was forced to stop their bout at La Crosse on Oct. 26.

St. Paul Dog First in Southern Ohio Derby

Madison, Ind., Nov. 1.—The setter dog, Eugene Dick's Ghost, owned by E. E. Simmons, the well known trap shooter of St. Paul, won the derby of the Southern Ohio field trials for bird dogs under two years old which was decided here yesterday.

NOVA SCOTIA WINS THE INTERNATIONAL FISHERMAN'S TROPHY

(By United Press)

Halifax, Nov. 1.—Canada retains the international fishermen's trophy. The Nova Scotia schooner Blue Nose, defender of the cup, defeated the Yankee Columbia today in the second and deciding race of the annual match.

In a stiff breeze that at times reached a velocity of thirty knots, the Canadian champion of the North Atlantic fishing fleet kept ahead of the American contender without much trouble all the way around the 34 mile course. Blue Nose won the fishing race of the series Monday by a close margin.

THREE AMERICANS ARE UNBEATEN IN CUE CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, Nov. 1.—The three American contestants in the world's 18.2 ballcue championship tournament swept through the first three matches without a defeat, each American gaining victory at the expense of an invader from Europe.

Miller Huggins Speaks At Father, Son Banquet

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.—Miller Huggins, who led the New York Yankees to the world's baseball championship, made his first public appearance in his home city when he attended a father and sons' dinner at the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce. He was greeted with cheers when he urged the boys always to be imbued with the spirit of fair play and declared that such a spirit made the team he managed a successful one.

Huggins will be given a testimonial dinner by the baseball fans next Saturday night.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Go-Getter" Thrilling

There is much that is unique and thrilling about "The Go-Getter," which was shown with great success at the Lyceum Theatre last evening. T. Roy Barnes, in the leading role of Bill Peck, a war "vet" working for the Ricks lumber company, has a hard time getting reestablished after his discharge from the army, but the "only girl in the world" arrives in time to see that her father takes care of him. Naturally Bill falls in love at first sight, and what paces he doesn't have to go through to satisfy her father that he is worthy of her aren't worth mentioning.

It will be shown again tonight for the last time, and no one should miss it for it certainly is a "go-getter" of a picture.

"The Masters of Men" Coming

The announcement that "Masters of Men," the great sea picture, adapted by C. Graham Baker from Morgan Robertson's masterpiece, will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre Friday and Saturday has brought numerous letters of congratulations to Manager Miller for booking this special feature and showing it at regular program prices, 10c and 25c. Critics have praised "Masters of Men" as the most realistic motion picture of life at sea ever screened.

The cast includes Earl Williams, Alice Calhoun, Cullen Landis and Wanda Hawley.

"MARY AND DOUG" TO SUE FILM MAGAZINE

REPORT THAT EVELYN BRENT CAUSED ESTRANGEMENT BE- GINS THREEFOLD DENIAL

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—A court battle to put a stop to alleged malicious and unfounded stories about men and women in the motion picture industry was to be started in New York as a result of instructions from Mary Pickford, motion picture actress, and her actor-husband, Douglas Fairbanks, who announced they had telegraphed to attorneys in that city.

Their eastern attorneys, they said, were ordered to begin suit immediately against a film magazine which published a report that Evelyn Brent, Mr. Fairbank's former leading lady, had caused estrangement of Miss Pickford and her husband.

Miss Brent joined with Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks in denouncing the stories as "ridiculously untrue," and her husband, B. P. Fineman, confirmed the Fairbanks' announcement that she would join with them in bringing suit.

"That was a nasty story and unjust story," was the way Miss Pickford characterized the article. "We are bringing this suit to protect not only ourselves, but all others who are attacked by such stories."

Referring to the supposed "rumors that a separation from Mr. Fairbanks was imminent," Miss Pickford cited the fact that her husband "follows along, whenever I go on location, even if he has to stop work on his own picture."

Fairbanks described rumors of a separation as about what one might expect from those "who have been talking about me for years." He added that his acquaintance with Miss Brent was purely professional and that he "never talked with her more than 20 minutes at a time."

BLACKMAIL PLOT MAY BE UNCOVERED

(By United Press)

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 1.—The solution of the blackmail plot that led to the suicide of Mayor Folsom, Irving, New Jersey, lies in a convict in the Nebraska state prison police here believed today.

Charles Currey, convict, told police he would reveal the names of the blackmail ring that caused Mayor Folsom's death but not until his release from prison on May 16, 1925.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

(By United Press)
Latonia Race Track, Ky., Nov. 1.—Zev, Harry F. Sinclair's crack three year old, is expected here this afternoon completing the picture that will come to life Saturday when Kentucky's hills will echo with the cheers for the winner of Latonia's championship.

My Own, closely guarded in his stall in barn 41 and in Memoriam, which will carry the hopes and each of western turf men here were on the ground, ready for the battle. Rialto may come to match his much vaunted speed against that of the champion, but interested parties still center their hopes in the long anticipated meeting between Zev and Admiral C. T. Grayson's brown colt.

The weather man promises fair skies for the big day; a track that was ankle deep in mud in the early part of the week drying rapidly to a perfectness that will lend no handicap to any starters.

Sam Hildreth, trainer of Zev, said he preferred a muddy track, but it is agreed by the gathering throng of horsemen who are drifting into town today a fairly fast track offers the best test of the three champions' respective ability.

ZEVE IS EASY VICTOR AT EMPIRE CITY

New York, Nov. 1.—Zev yesterday demonstrated that he is fit for the $50,000 championship race at Latonia next Saturday when he will meet My Own in what may prove the deciding three-year-old test of the year, by galloping to easy victory in the $5,000 autumn championship stakes, feature event of the closing day's card at Empire City track.

The race, at a mile for all ages, proved little more than a workout for the conqueror of Papyrus, which will be shipped tomorrow to Latonia. Ridden by Earl Sande and carrying 120 pounds, Zev breezed under the wire in 1:40 3-5, five lengths ahead of Bracdale, a stable mate. Harry Payne Whitney's Tryster was third and Ladkin, the only other starter, finished fourth.

Sande, who will ride Zev in the Latonia championship race, left for Cincinnati last night.

Sam Jones Honored

GIANTS NOW ONLY TEAM WITH CHANCE TO GET HORNSBY

New York, Nov. 1.—Rogers Hornsby, the National League's highest rated ball player, will work in the uniform of the New York Giants next summer if he is not retained by St. Louis Cardinals, it was learned from a reliable source.

Demanding players only in offers for the champion batsman, the Cards have eliminated from the running every club in the league but the Giants. No other manager but McGraw is prepared to give the Card owners what they think Hornsby is worth without wrecking their club.

STAR POLO PONY, HOMESICK, KILLS SELF

New York, Nov. 1.—Homesick for his old stall, Spaghetti, star polo pony, committed suicide at the Mitchell field army reservation. Spaghetti, owned by Major Terry Allen and ridden in the international military championship matches between American and British teams, had been turned out of his regular quarters to make room for the string brought by the invading players.

While being exercised, the pony broke away and collided head on with a wire fence and died a few moments later of a broken neck.

Major Allen is said to have refused an offer of $5,000 for the pony.

NOVA SCOTIA WINS THE INTERNATIONAL FISHERMAN'S TROPHY

(By United Press)
Halifax, Nov. 1.—Canada retains the international fishermen's trophy. The Nova Scotia schooner Blue Nose, defender of the cup, defeated the Yankee Columbia today in the second and deciding race of the annual match.

In a stiff breeze that at times reached a velocity of thirty knots, the Canadian champion of the North Atlantic fishing fleet kept ahead of the American contender without much trouble all the way around the 34 mile course. Blue Nose won the fishing race of the series Monday by a close margin.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Go-Getter" Thrilling

There is much that is unique and thrilling about "The Go-Getter," which was shown with great success at the Lyceum Theatre last evening. T. Roy Barnes, in the leading role of Bill Peck, a war "vet" working for the Ricks lumber company, has a hard time getting reestablished after his discharge from the army, but the "only girl in the world" arrives in time to see that her father takes care of him. Naturally Bill falls in love at first sight, and what paces he doesn't have to go through to satisfy her father that he is worthy of her aren't worth mentioning.

It will be shown again tonight for the last time, and no one should miss it for it certainly is a "go-getter" of a picture.

"The Masters of Men" Coming

The announcement that "Masters of Men," the great sea picture, adapted by C. Graham Baker from Morgan Robertson's masterpiece, will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre Friday and Saturday has brought numerous letters of congratulations to Manager Hiller for booking this special feature and showing it at regular program prices, 10c and 25c. Critics have praised "Masters of Men" as the most realistic motion picture of life at sea ever screened.

The cast includes Earl Williams, Alice Calhoun, Cullen Landis and Wanda Hawley.

"MARY AND DOUG" TO SUE FILM MAGAZINE

REPORT THAT EVELYN BRENT CAUSED ESTRANGEMENT BE- GINS THREEFOLD DENIAL

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—A court battle to put a stop to alleged malicious and unfounded stories about men and women in the motion picture industry was to be started in New York as a result of instructions from Mary Pickford, motion picture actress, and her actor-husband, Douglas Fairbanks, who announced they had telegraphed to attorneys in that city.

Their eastern attorneys, they said, were ordered to begin suit immediately against a film magazine which published a report that Evelyn Brent, Mr. Fairbanks' former leading lady, had caused estrangement of Miss Pickford and her husband.

Miss Brent joined with Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks in denouncing the stories as "ridiculously untrue," and her husband, B. P. Fineman, confirmed the Fairbanks' announcement that she would join with them in bringing suit.

"That was a nasty story and unjust story," was the way Miss Pickford characterized the article. "We are bringing this suit to protect not only ourselves, but all others who are attacked by such stories."

Referring to the supposed "rumors that a separation from Mr. Fairbanks was imminent," Miss Pickford cited the fact that her husband "follows along, whenever I go on location, even if he has to stop work on his own picture."

Fairbanks described rumors of a separation as about what one might expect from those "who have been talking about me for years." He added that his acquaintance with Miss Brent was purely professional and that he "never talked with her more than 20 minutes at a time."

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.—Adv.
